SMACC SYDNEY

SMACC

SMACC has built a reputation for being the leader in Critical Care conference innovation with delegates making this clear by their support. In Berlin 2017, Das SMACC sold out the 2500 delegate registrations within a few hours, several months before the event.

The SMACC conference provides the highest quality of Critical Care education and is guaranteed to innovate and inspire. We have the most engaging, informative and inspiring educational presentations. Together, let's make SMACC stand aside from the other Critical Care conferences and that's the key – 'Together'.

SMACC began as a physical manifestation of an online community that were united in their vision of creating high quality, free, open-access medical education (FOAMed) for the critical care community. The driving force behind SMACC has always been to Educate, Inspire, Innovate and Connect delegates.

SMACC is also a health promotion charity. All the content from our conferences is freely available to anyone, anywhere and we want as many people as possible to hear the fantastic talks our speakers have given. We are not-for-profit and the organising committee gives their time freely and receives no financial benefit. We believe the philanthropic and honest motivation behind our mission partially explains the success.

SMACC has seen spectacular growth since its humble beginnings. The conference has grown from an enthusiastic idea into a global leader amongst critical care events. Whilst SMACC is primarily a high quality, academic meeting, the real reason behind this growth is the enormous and inspiring energy of the critical care community itself. SMACC crosses traditional hierarchies, professional barriers and international borders. It is a community that is centred on the pursuit of excellence in patient care and a passion for sharing this as widely as possible.

HOW IS SMACC DIFFERENT?

SMACC puts you, the delegate, first.

Following Das SMACC in Berlin, we received almost one thousand feedback surveys. We have carefully analysed these and looked for any trends in the comments regarding every aspect of the meeting from the speakers' performances, the cost of registration, the overall culture at the conference and the content of the sessions. The trends of this feedback now shape the conference going forward. SMACC is truly "the delegates' conference" and we differ from other meetings in several ways:

1. Single Stream:

Das SMACC, in Berlin was our first experiment with single stream and it was very well received. Delegates enjoyed being together as a group and felt that they were exposed to a broad selection of hugely relevant content they may not have otherwise experienced had there been multiple streams. Importantly, feedback identified a greater need for the amount of time allocated for questions from the floor to ensure ample opportunity to connect speakers and delegates. This will be addressed in the Sydney 2019 program.

2. Program Vision:

The main conference will be engaging, immersive and relevant to all who work in critical care. This will be complemented by a wide range of workshops in the two days preceding the conference covering even more of your specific areas of interest. We believe this will allow you to create an experience that satisfies your individual learning needs.

3. Main Program Content Development:

Feedback identified four key themes that resonated with most delegates, which include

- Bedside Practice: Evidence based clinical updates
- Learning and Culture: Teaching, communicating, team work and learning
- Science and Innovation: New horizons
- People and Planet: The big issues facing health care providers

One session each day will be dedicated to each of these four stems. Each theme will develop in a coherent way over the three days of the program.

SMACC prides itself on tackling the difficult issues, that other conferences avoid. This has proven to be popular, memorable and powerful.

We are proud that SMACC leads the way in the medical conference field, in striving to reflect the diversity of our delegates in our faculty. In Sydney we will have 50% female faculty but more importantly we look beyond only gender imbalances to more broadly reflect the geographical, economic, and professional groups our delegates represent. We also continue to focus on introducing a large proportion of new speakers with fresh, diverse voices.

5. Culture

As well as promoting diversity, innovation and community, SMACC has been one of the first medical conferences to develop and promote a “Code of Conduct” for faculty and delegates. We want to ensure SMACC is an environment where all our community feels comfortable, both at the event and online.

SMACC was also the first medical conference to provide on-site childcare for delegates.

SMACC

6. Social Responsibility

SMACC has fostered a wonderful student Volunteer community (SMACC Junior) which has enhanced the whole SMACC community. Delegates also donate to a student bursary, which is open to all students attending SMACC to assist them in their travel expenses.

In addition to this we are proud to announce that in 2019 SMACC will commence a program to sponsor delegates from regions including Africa, South America, South Pacific and remote Australia to attend Sydney 2019.

So if you want to attend a conference that is truly different, a conference that aims to inspire as well as educate, a conference not afraid to focus on the “Big Issues” that affect us all and one where you can tailor-make your own learning experience... then SMACC is for you. But more importantly, if you want to be heard and to feel part of a critical care community that is focused on caring for patients and each other – then you can’t miss SMACC Sydney March 25-29 2019.

SMACC TICKET RELEASE BEGINS MONDAY, 20 AUGUST 2018

SMACC

The opening of ticket sales is always one of the most exciting days on the SMACC calendar! This year we have developed a new process for the sales (in response to all your feedback), which we believe will be fairer, simpler and hopefully much less frustrating. This is how it will work:

- Sales will occur via a ballot which opens on Monday, 20 August 2018
- The ballot registration will only require some simple demographic data (name/age range/gender/country), work name, and your email so that you can generate a unique identifier.

Note: There's no advantage to entering more than once by using a different email as your unique identifier is based on your demographic data and work institution name! Duplicates will not be entered in the ballot. Offers of registration are not transferable to different names!!
- You can register a friend in the ballot using the same simple process above but you will need to enter their demographics and email, so they too will be identifiable. (This prevents people accidentally double purchasing for each other)
- The ballot will be open for 7 days from Monday, 20 August 2018
- Tickets will be allocated to geographical locations around the globe to ensure that each region is represented
- Most of the registrations available will go into this first ticket release although as with prior years we will hold a smaller portion of tickets back for a 2nd release in mid-November 2018 and then a small 3rd release in late January 2019. This still means the best chance of securing tickets will be in the first release

- Once the ballot closes tickets will be allocated in each region and delegates will be then notified a week later confirming ticket availability and purchasing details.
- Notified delegates will then have 7 days to purchase a ticket. Delegates who enter the ballot and receive an allocation but fail to take up the allocation will lose their chance in the ballot and will need to re-register for future ballots later in the year
- Delegates who register for the ballot but miss out on a ticket allocation will automatically be placed onto a wait list for allocations that have been offered but not taken up after the first week. Once all balloted registrations have been taken up any delegates remaining on the wait list will then be automatically entered into subsequent ballots later in the year
- Equally any un-allocated tickets will be redistributed to later ballots.

Critical Dates:

Monday, 20 August 2018 9am (Australian Eastern Standard Time)	Ballot registration opens
Monday, 27 August 2018 9am (Australian Eastern Standard Time)	Ballot registration closes
Monday, 3 September 2018	Allocations distributed and ticket sales open
Monday, 10 September 2018	Ticket sales close
Monday, 19 November 2018	Second registration ballot
Monday, 22 January 2019	Third registration ballot

SMACC PROCEDURAL SKILLS CADAVER LAB (WORKSHOP)

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	University of Technology Sydney
TIME:	Half day x 2 – AM & PM (0800-1200 or 1300-1700)
COST:	$990.00
FACULTY:	Chris Ross (Chair) and an all-star team of demonstrators (1 instructor per 2 delegates)
PAX:	30 per session

A mastery of invasive procedures is fundamental to resuscitation, emergency patient stabilisation and patient safety. These invasive procedures often required to save a life may not be utilised optimally due to lack of practice, concern for complications, lack of familiarity, or advances in equipment or technique since one's training. You will be joining internationally renowned faculty in a closely supervised environment with hands-on labs that are designed to improve practitioner competence at invasive procedures. The lab utilises fresh, unembalmed cadavers, which closely simulate the anatomy and feel of an actual patient. Each station will also utilise ultrasound machines to further their procedural skills to the next level. Advanced multimedia will assist the learner in viewing procedures in real time. The morning and afternoon labs are slightly different as the procedures performed can include surgical airway, percutaneous tracheostomy, venous access, intraosseous access, resuscitative thoracotomy, lateral canthotomy, venous cut-down and much more.

CRITICAL COMMUNICATION SKILLS: MASTERING EMPATHY, ACTIVE LISTENING AND DIFFICULT CONVERSATIONS (WORKSHOP)

DATE:	Tuesday 26th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day AM (0800 – 1200)
COST:	$250.00
FACULTY:	Liz Crowe, Iain Beardsell, Jenny Holman
PAX:	30

This will be a communication workshop tailored specifically to the critical care environment and unlike anything you have experienced before. Using humour and scenarios you will be given a fundamental framework to build good communication skills in the ever-changing environment of critical care. Participants will leave this workshop with the skills to assess when to talk and when to listen. There will be a strong focus on remaining empathic and connected to those you are communicating with, teaching you how to attune yourself to individuals and groups to maximise communication outcomes. We will provide you with a framework of how to structure difficult and awkward conversations that will leave you empowered and confident. Consider then going to "Communication Intensive" workshop in the afternoon if you want more!

COMMUNICATION INTENSIVE

DATE:	Tuesday 26th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day PM (1300 – 1700)
COST:	$300.00
FACULTY:	Liz Crowe, Iain Beardsell, Jenny Holman
PAX:	16

Please note delegates must attend the Critical Communication Skills workshop in the morning to attend this workshop. Using the communication framework from the workshop this morning this will give participants the opportunity to role play and trial their new knowledge and skills. This workshop will provide individual feedback and mentoring that will put you on the path to building exceptional skills for communication in the critical care context. Scenarios will include a range of difficult and high-pressure conversations around death, poor prognosis, conflict with others, providing feedback and performance management. This intensive will build your skills professionally and personally.

GET CREATIVE

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	Sydney Opera House
TIME:	10:00 – 1700
COST:	$350.00
FACULTY:	Michelle Johnston, Jeremy Faust, Oliver Flower, Grace Leo
PAX:	80

The Get Creative Workshop has been reinvented and reimaged in one of the greatest creative venues on the world - the Sydney Opera House! Begin the day with a late morning private tour of the Sydney Opera House focusing on the creative design, architecture and engineering - Guaranteed to get the creative juices flowing. Then meet fellow delegates over lunch in the beautiful Utzon Room (The only room inside the SOH designed by the incredible Danish architect) with views across the harbour to the botanic gardens and lady Macquarie's chair.

Finally settle in for an inspiring afternoon of presentations. Creative communication forms the beating heart of #FOAMed, but not all of us feel comfortable delving into our creative brain in order to produce new and inspiring material.

Our workshop will explore elements of writing and illustrating, empowering you to communicate with elegance and eloquence.

SMACC-FORENSICS IN CRITICAL CARE

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day PM (1300 – 1700)
COST:	$300.00
FACULTY:	Nicola Cunningham, Maaïke Moller, JoAnn Parkin (The faculty leads are all forensic physicians at the Victorian Institute of Forensic Medicine)
PAX:	24

Forensic medicine, or the application of medicine as it pertains to the courts, can apply to any field of medicine, but this is nowhere more true than in critical care, where assault, both physical and sexual, can bring medicine into contact with the sharp edge of the law.

Many doctors have an intuitive aversion to the courts as an adversarial and potentially hostile environment. A basic knowledge of forensic medical principles, such as injury documentation, preservation of evidence, report writing and preparing evidence can assist in giving the practitioner confidence and in assisting the judicial process to ensure appropriate outcomes.

The program will include:

- Forensic Examinations - small group work
- Report Writing
- Expert Evidence in Court - moot court

TRAUMA UPDATES - (MINI-CONGRESS)

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day AM (0800 – 1200)
COST:	$200.00
FACULTY:	Christine Bowles (Chair), Anthony Holley, Caroline Leech, Laura Duggan
PAX:	80

Pre-hospital, Trauma Room, Anesthetic bay or ICU we all manage trauma. This congress will provide the latest updates, panel discussions and debates to keep you at the sharp end of trauma resuscitation.

DELIVERING EFFECTIVE FEEDBACK: (WORKSHOP)

DATE:	Tuesday 26th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day PM (1200 – 1700)
COST:	$250.00
FACULTY:	Simon Carley, Natalie May,
PAX:	40

Feedback is what we use to guide improvement - it helps correct behaviour and cognitive errors. But even the word “feedback” provokes some emotions. Many of us have had bad experiences giving or receiving feedback. It’s hard. We are vulnerable, particularly about our work - the thing we have invested our time, our money, our weekends, our free time and our identity into.

Don’t fret! There are some very simple things we can do to make feedback better and more useful; in this workshop we will give you some practical tips to help you give - and receive - effective feedback.

TALK LIKE SMACC - SECRETS FOR PRESENTATIONS

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day AM (0800 – 1200)
COST:	$250.00
FACULTY:	Simon Carley, Haney Mallemat, Victoria Brazil, Natalie May, Grace Leo
PAX:	150

This faculty not only talks the talk, they’ve walked the walk - and at SMACC! Now they’re sharing the secrets to delivering an amazing presentation. Delegates will learn the core components of every great talk:
The story - making sure the message has a coherent structure
The media - enhancing the story not distracting from it
Presentation - making sure the message is delivered with presence

SMACC TOXICOLOGY

DATE:	Monday 25th March 2019
VENUE:	ICC Sydney
TIME:	Half day PM (1300 – 1700)
COST:	$200.00
FACULTY:
PAX:	80

This TOX workshop is a masterclass delivered by a top notch faculty of Australasian experts. Expect controversies to be generated and entrenched ideas to be challenged !!

Sessions will focus on key topics based around clinical cases and are designed to be interactive. This workshop will be relevant to the bedside care of your critical care patients, will make you think and hopefully change your practice.

VENUE

SMACC SYDNEY 2019 will be held at:

International Convention Centre Sydney (ICC Sydney)
ICC Sydney Theatre
Darling Drive
Sydney NSW 2000

T: +61 2 9215 7100
W: www.iccsydney.com.au

ICC Sydney is Australia's premier fully-integrated convention, exhibition and entertainment precinct. The integrated venue boasts a striking contemporary design, leading technology and facilities, and flexible spaces to cater for the changing architecture of meetings, alongside superior dining and service.

The main stage within the entertainment hub is ICC Sydney's innovative, tiered and fan-shaped theatre designed to enrich the live experience. ICC Sydney Theatre has been specially designed to host the world's greatest performers and entertainment spectaculars with state-of-the-art technical facilities. Featuring a striking contemporary design, the theatre brings audiences closer to performers by providing unobstructed, 100% forward facing views of the stage from any of the venue's luxurious seats.

LOCATION

Sydney, the capital of New South Wales and one of Australia's largest cities, provides a truly cosmopolitan backdrop for SMACC SYDNEY 2019. Home of the majestic Harbour Bridge and Sydney Opera House, Sydney also boasts the world's largest natural harbour, as well as countless award-winning restaurants and top attractions.

A diverse city, Sydney is home to some of the most beautiful parks, as well as iconic beaches. Take a relaxing stroll through the Botanical Gardens, with free walking tours offered daily at the Visitors' Centre. Wander along the harbour to Circular Quay and hop on a ferry to Manly Beach, or if you're up for a little exercise, the Bondi to Coogee walk provides breathtaking views of the East Australian coastline.

For those who are interested in Sydney's cultural side, there are plenty of museums and galleries to explore. The Art Gallery of New South Wales hosts visiting collections from all over the world alongside their permanent exhibitions. Wander down to the Rocks, where you will find The Museum of Contemporary Art nestled amongst some of the oldest buildings in Sydney.

Looking for somewhere to unwind? Sydney's varied nightlife has something for everyone. Explore the city's burgeoning small bar scene, go dancing on Oxford Street or grab a drink at Opera Bar and soak in the beautiful harbour views that have made our city famous.

GETTING THERE

The ICC Sydney is located in the heart of Sydney's Darling Harbour. The International Convention Centre (ICC) Sydney is easily accessible by public transport, including light rail, ferry and train and is only a 10 minute walk from Central and Town Hall train stations. Taxis are available at all times throughout the inner city.

More than 35 airlines fly in and out of Sydney Airport with daily flights linking Sydney to key destinations around the world. The international terminal (T1) handles all international flights and some domestic flights. Terminal 2 (T2) and terminal 3 (T3) handle domestic flights.

Getting to and from the airport

- Sydney Airport is about 10 km from the city centre and easily accessible by train, bus or car.
- Trains depart frequently from underground stations in the airport's domestic and international terminals.
- Public buses depart from bus stops outside T1 and T3 (but not T2).
- Shuttle buses will deliver passengers to their hotel. Reservations at T1 and T3 information desks.
- Taxis are available from organised taxi ranks directly outside the terminals.
- Rental cars are available at all terminals from various rental companies.
- Personal pickup – there are various passenger pickup zones. For details, check out Sydney Airport's website.
